

Barter Plan Successful for Unemployment Relief

To labor and to trade their labor for supplies—this is the plan of the Unemployment Relief council which is gaining headway in the United States. Unit No. 2 was organized in the Pacific Grove—New Monterey district about three weeks ago and according to the manager, Dan Coon of Carmel Woods, is growing in rapid strides.

A man signs up for labor and is placed if work can be found for him. The one for whom he works pays into the organization, something that can be used to sustain life. This is put into the storehouse and distributed to the laborers as they request it. Or if the amount is too great it is used by the unit to trade for other necessities. The wood the men cut is one of the greatest means of trade. Since they take no money, one purchaser made out a check for the amount to the gas company. This check Mr. Coon deposited with the company and was able thereby to keep the gas from being shut off in some of the unfortunate homes.

In Salinas where the organization has had more time to be perfected, they are feeding 60 men three meals a day. Unit No. 2 feeds the workers the noon meal at this time. The two organizations exchange products, Monterey taking over last week a lot of fish which they traded for vegetables. They found the Salinas unit without wood and took them six loads Monday, the supply of the Salinas workers being on adobe land over which they cannot truck during wet weather.

This is not a charity organization but many people wish to help when they learn of these men who are making this attempt. One lady donated money to purchase 100 pairs of shoes at the government salvage department, but these shoes must be repaired. An unemployed cobbler took from storage a shoe repairing outfit and is ready to do the work but it will take $15 to buy leather from a wholesale house. Meanwhile the men need the shoes.

Saws and axes are a godsend also. If anyone has any tools they can spare, a man will be glad to call and make arrangements to trade for them.

Several farmers have asked the management to help in preparing their lands since they are not in a position to pay money for labor. They offer to pay in farm products. Mr. Coon is making an effort to procure a tractor for the men to use.

Monterey bakers are donating their stale bread and other things will undoubtedly be turned over when the public learns of the situation.

In their attempts to help themselves, the men have not forgotten others who are unfortunate. The Community Chest folk applied for and received wood for forty families, though the unit receives no help from the chest. Wood is also donated to dependent women who have no men folk to aid in the cutting.

As to the women, they are not to be neglected and several sewing machines have been secured and a room will be fitted up where they may trade their labor for necessities.

There are some things for which money is necessary. License for the cars and trucks come in under this head. The Telephone company generously installed a telephone with a receipt for three months' service, giving quite a bit of relief.

Mr. Coon has a vision of making an organization of such perfection that it will relieve the fear of unemployment, the greatest worry of the working man. Also one of the greatest things it accomplishes is leaving a man his self respect. Practically all members at this time are Americans.

George C. Romine has recovered from quite a severe attack of the flu, which kept him from his business for a few days.

CIRCUS AT POLO CLUB
NETS MORE THAN $1500.

With the Polo club decorated to represent the Big Top, and with many side shows and ring attractions, the circus so widely advertised as a benefit for the unemployed was held here last Saturday night.

Mrs. Sidney Fish was chairman of the affair and with her many willing workers is to be congratulated on the success of the enterprise.

Guests were asked to come in costume and there were some gorgeous ones to be seen but many more were along the humorous line. Mrs. Mort Henderson won first prize with her dress of spangles. First prize for men was divided between Herman Crossman, who was dressed as a gambler of '49 and Byington Ford, as a "constable." The selections were made by the judges during the grand march.

To carry out the idea of the circus there were hot dogs and red lemonade. Tables covered with red and white cloths were reserved in one end of the room for those who did not care to mingle with the throng and this made a very attractive appearance. Ross Cowan took old fashioned tins types at 25 cents each. Ruth Austin danced in one of the side shows, while Wilma Hervey appeared as "strong man." Miss Hervey gave some realistic effects of lifting the huge weights marked 500 and 1000 pounds. When she finally held them straight up she dropped them to take the applause of her audience and they bounced several feet into the air. She demonstrated her strength by pulling a chain in two and by straightening out a horseshoe (which proved to be tin). Anyway, it was all in fun!

And what fun! Dressed as bareback riders, mounted on tiny Shetland ponies, rode onto the dance floor, their horses being led by their husbands. There was continuous music throughout the evening. It is estimated that more than $1500 will be turned over to unemployment relief.

Edward G. Kuster of Carmel Point is organizing a new class in dramatic art.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB TO GIVE BENEFIT PLAY

Women, and probably some men of Carmel will enjoy a card party the 20th and the unemployed will benefit from the proceeds. This party will be under the auspices of the Woman's club and has become an annual affair looked forward to with much pleasure by those who attend.

Fifty cents each will be charged for the afternoon, or $2.00 a table. It has been suggested by those in charge that friends get together and take a table, calling Miss Elizabeth Allcutt, who will make reservations.

Make a notation in your note book now and enjoy yourself while aiding in this worthy cause.

RUTH POORE TO BE IN NEW FOX PRODUCTION

Ruth Poore is working in a new picture in Hollywood, which will be called "Three Hundred in Budapest." She is with the Fox Studios. Miss Poore is the daughter of Marion Poore at San Antonio and Ocean.

ASK TO HAVE PRESENT
POSTMASTER RETAINED

Judge J. J. McGrath, congressman elect from this district, is in receipt of scores of letters from both Democrats and Republicans asking that the present postmaster, W. L. Overstreet, be retained.

To merit such widespread interest, Mr. Overstreet has handled the office in such a way as to make friends of the patrons. His helpful spirit, combined with his efficiency, is a hard combination to beat.

Chain Stores Menace Carmel Individuality

Carmelites interested in preserving the unique individuality of the community are facing a situation that must be met resolutely or Carmel will degenerate into one of the thousands of ugly, nickel grabbing main streets so common all over the country.

THE CHAIN STORE WILL KILL EVERY SPARK OF INDIVIDUALITY IN CARMEL IN TWO YEARS' TIME.

The chain store owes its existence to a stultifying standardization the exact opposite of anything in quaint and beautiful Carmel. These businesses are run by clerks, many of whom despise their jobs, their customers and their environment. Chain stores are owned by stockholders who despise not only their customers, but their clerks as well and are interested solely in dividends.

The chain store by high pressure selling methods and untold catch penny devices drains the life blood of any community. Money in an endless stream going in but never a dime coming out of the coffers of the chain store magnates.

At present only the grocer's existence is threatened by the advent of chain stores, but these are only the vanguard of a host of hungry vultures. It is rumored that a large chain dime store will soon be here. And the dime store will be selling flimsy trinkets, cheap stamped spoons and printed dishes and garish imitation paintings to the tourist trade that rightfully belongs by heritage to our own shops and artists selling genuine goods of quality. It is these shopkeepers and artisans of Carmel that have made the village famous to the four corners of the world. And then there will come the chain department store with its big but cheaply made stocks of hardware, plumbing, electrical goods and a dozen other lines all calculated to flimflam the public. And there is the chain drug store, the distant bakery, the automobile supply houses and others that can be pointed out in numberless towns now paying the penalty for permitting these institutions to get a strangle hold on their buying public.

Not one of these institutions will maintain or even help maintain the uniqueness of Carmel. Try interesting them in a community plan of any sort—the clerk in charge may be a good fellow—he may even be sympathetic but the unwholesome fact is he is employed for the sole purpose of making sales records and his job hangs on that one thing.

Consider your independent dealer. He is, to begin with, your neighbor. He owns his own store. His home, his children's school; his very roots are here. He is proud of all these—proud of his small part in making them better as the years slip by. He spends his all for these things—his time and his money. He sacrifices today's profits for tomorrow's progress and happiness.

WHICH WILL YOU HAVE?

The independent community builder and a beautiful town of contented citizens—

OR— Houses filled with clerks will be gone somewhere else in six months and just another one of those hot-dog, chain store streets?

Think this over when you consider that the chain store's prices may be a fraction of a cent cheaper.

THE SUN SHINES

In starting a newspaper in Carmel the editor has no apologies to make. As an explanation of the venture it may be said it is the fulfillment of a ten year ambition to live in Carmel. There is no other place that has people so interesting in such perfect environment.

Carmel Sun starts free of financial or moral obligations to any individual or group of individuals. It is a private business venture in every sense of the word. And, with the business support already received and that promised it seems certain Carmel Sun will shine as brightly as the owner expected.

In one respect Carmel Sun will be unique, like everything else in Carmel—it will operate its own photo engraving plant and so far as is known it will be the only country newspaper in the world making its own picture plates or halftones.

It will be a few weeks yet before the photo engraving department is in operation but when it is in working order about one half the Sun's news space will be devoted to pictures of Carmelites, their activities and Carmel's quaint and imposing homes and the more beautiful spots of interest. It is also intended to reproduce in Carmel Sun pictures of the work of leading painters and photos of other works of art done in Carmel.

Carmel Sun's only policy will be one of construction. There will be no special editorial writers and there will not be any "columns" maintained.

SCHOOL FINANCING WILL BE TOPIC AT P.T.A. MEET

"Financing our Schools" will be the topic of a talk given before the Parent Teacher Association of Carmel on next Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at Sunset School. A. B. Ingham, principal of the Pacific Grove high school will address the group on this subject which he presented so clearly before another gathering in the early fall.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting and to enter into the discussion of sources of revenue for the schools, and the existing conditions of tax apportionment.

SITE AGENT FOR GOVERN-MENT HERE FEB. 8

Word has been received that on or about February 8, George Rolfe, post office inspector and site agent for the treasury department, will be in Carmel to confer with Postmaster Overstreet concerning the location of the new $70,000 postoffice building.

Prior to Mr. Rolfe's arrival, Mr. Overstreet will call a meeting at the city hall of those who have submitted bids.

Mr. Rolfe has announced that there will be no deviation from the footage asked for in his recent request for bids, that is: 27,000 square feet.

Twenty-two bids have been submitted, about one-half of which will be available for the building site.

Following the purchasing of the site and the straightening out of any legal matters that may arise, it is possible that Carmel's new postoffice will be ready for occupancy within the year.

CARMEL CLAIMS ONLY

MOUNTED BOY SCOUTS

"There may be other mounted troops of Boy Scouts in the United States, but we don't know of any," stated Jack Dalton, noted Carmel writer, on a recent visit to the Sun office.

Mr. Dalton, who makes his home here when not working in Hollywood, devotes his spare time to training a troop of fourteen Carmel lads in racing, drilling, jumping and polo and is enthusiastic over the progress they are making.

Some of the younger ones no more than seven or eight years old he stated, are able to take 2 1/2 foot jumps, while the older ones are limited only by their horses' ability.

The horses are furnished from Lynn Hodges stables and Mr. Hodges very kindly permits the boys to ride for the price of one day's feed for each mount. Mr. Dalton assured the editor that the horses were perfectly safe for the boys and yet spirited enough to go through all the paces required.

The Scouts meet regularly each Wednesday at four and often have all-day picnics on Saturday, going to Indian Village in the 17-Mile Drive where Mr. Dalton gives them jumping and polo lessons.

As an added thrill, their scout master is teaching them trick roping, and in this, as in the riding, he finds them becoming quite efficient. Wednesdays and Saturdays have become very popular and even many of the fathers are joining in the fun. And if Dad ever feels a hesitancy about following the leader down some steep trail he doesn't let his son know it.

Mr. Dalton is assisted in the work by his son, Frank. He says that a test would be given the Scouts soon at which time they will receive their merit badge in horsemanship. The following are members:

Carmel Scrip Plan Is Discussed at Meeting

To provide for the unemployed, to aid the business man, to improve the city—this is the three-way plan of the Carmel Business Men's association, proponents of the issuance of scrip to tide things over until better times arrive again.

"After studying the subject from every angle," said Mr. Watson, president of the association, at a public meeting in Pine Inn Wednesday night, "we feel that this is the only feasible plan. Mr. Watson pointed out the fact that the plan proposed had already been followed in 150 cities of the United States and had succeeded in every city except one, where an error in calculation was made.

The idea as roughly worked out follows: $1,000 worth of the certificates to be issued and given to bona fide residents of Carmel who are unemployed, in part payment of work for the city. The worker may trade his scrip at Carmel stores only for purchases, first endorsing it on the back and affixing a 3-cent stamp bought from the organization in charge; the merchant in turn passes the certificate on for his own local purchases after endorsing it and adding the stamp.

When the scrip dollar has been endorsed and stamped 36 times, this will make a total of $1.08 worth of stamps which the organization has sold and the certificate is then redeemable in legal tender. The eight cents will be used to defray the expenses created by the issuance of the paper "money."

It can readily be seen that before the $1,000 is redeemed it will have transacted $36,000 worth of business.

Details for a clearing house will probably be worked out whereby a merchant, finding himself overloaded with scrip, may cash his certificates at their face value, less three per cent. The clearing house would take measures to put the scrip into circulation again.

Mr. Watson stated that his organization had estimated that a business doing $6,000 a year would probably have local expenses amounting to $250 a month and that it was unlikely that any one firm would receive one fourth of the first issuance.

"Should everything work smoothly and show prospect of succeeding, it is likely that another $1,000 might be issued when three-fourths of the first had been redeemed," stated the chairman.

It was brought out at the meeting that a man must have been a Carmel resident for the past year to be eligible to relief work, and that at present about 50 men are listed for employment, averaging only about six days' work during the month.

"What would prevent counterfeiting?" Mr. Watson was asked. He replied that it was hardly likely that anyone would go to the expense of counterfeiting stamps, and risk detection by forging 36 signatures on a dollar certificate.

About sixty interested Carmelians were present at the meeting and a large majority was in favor of giving the scrip a trial.

Mr. Watson will speak before the different organizations to get the entire sentiment of the community.

WILL TAKE PICTURES FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOOK

The students of the Monterey high school will come to Carmel to have their photos taken for their annual high school annual at Leota Tucker's studio.

Mrs. Tucker has been in Carmel but four months but has already become well known for her artistic work. With her late husband she owned and operated a photo studio in San Jose for thirty years and experience, added to natural ability give her the high place she has attained.

Annual Kite Flying Contest Is Arousing Great Interest

Forty years ago, Rev. Willis G. White conceived the idea of a kite flying contest to furnish diversion for a class of boys. So much interest was taken he decided to make it a yearly affair and this he has done.

Washington's birthday will witness the second event of this kind in Carmel, Mr. White having come here to regain his health.

"At first," Mrs. White said the contestants were found among the school children, but so many of the older people appreciated the sport and desired to enter in that we changed the age limit from 16 to 90."

The contest will be held this year as usual on Hatton Field hill and it is hoped that as many interesting kites will be displayed as on the past three occasions, when foreign kites, factory kites and the boys' own handiwork vied for attention.

Prizes will be given for the best made, the best looking, the oddest and the highest flying.

Rev. Mr. White understands the human side of people. He knows that wholesome rivalry develops the friendly feeling that makes life worth while. The past forty years of his pastorate were spent in only three towns, which is an enviable record: Chico, Santa Rosa and Bakersfield. He has won the love and respect of the people with whom he has come in contact here, and is thereby able to put his contest over with a bang.

SHRINERS TO ENJOY DINNER AND DANCE

Carmel members of the Shrine club and some fortunate guests are looking forward to the dinner dance to be held at Forest Hill hotel on the evening of February 18. These affairs have been held every three months for some time past, and it is hoped that as the organization grows, they may be made into monthly affairs.

Carmel folk who belong to the Eastern Star chapter of Monterey are planning on a nice time next Monday evening when the regular meeting will be followed by a card party.

MOVES BEAUTY SHOP ONE DOOR SOUTH

Mrs. Franklin has moved her beauty parlor from the rear of her husband's barber shop on Dolores, near Ocean, to the room next door and has made a very charming place. LA COLLECTA CLUB MEETS
WITH MRS. R. HART

Mrs. Robert Hart entertained the ladies of La Collecta club at her home on Junipero avenue Wednesday afternoon, ten guests enjoying the program and social hour.

Mrs. Clara Beller gave a very interesting paper on "Current Events in Music," followed by the origin and horoscope of the month of February by Mrs. Grant Wills. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess during the roll call to which the members responded with current events. Those present were:

Mrs. Clara Beller, Mrs. Grant Wills, Mrs. Clara Nixon, Mrs. Cora Newton, Mrs. Cecil Haskell, Miss Emily Waters, Mrs. O. A. Holm, Miss Elizabeth Morgan and Mrs. Olas Edquist.

La Collecta is one of the most interesting little clubs of Carmel originating about five years ago when a group of neighbors who met together for a social hour found their meeting so agreeable that they decided to hold them regularly and adopt club procedure. Since that time they have met on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, having as their aim to learn a little and to be amused a little. There are now 20 members.

Last year the little group took up the study of California and found it very much worth while. This year, the programs are miscellaneous.

The first meeting of the year was at the home of Miss Elizabeth Morgan with Miss Emily Waters as hostess, and befitting the date, roll call was answered by New Year resolutions. Mrs. Grant Wills gave a paper on "Technocracy" and an article from the Readers Digest on "The Isle of Little Dogs," which were highly enjoyed. The article told of a cemetery in France given over entirely to the burial of dog heroes and gave the histories of some of the animals interred there. Mrs. Robert Hart read an account of the "Miracle of Teresa Newman." For amusement a game was played. Those answering to roll call at the first meeting were Mesdames Robert Hart, Clara Beller, Grant Wills, Cecil Haskell, Clara Nixon, Cora Newton, and William Chappel, and the Misses Morgan and Walters. Mrs. Anna Bain was a guest of the club.

CIRCUS ANIMAL LOOSE ON STREETS OF CARMEL

A Carmel citizen was much surprised Sunday morning to meet a circus animal coming down Mountain View avenue until the circus at the Polo club the night preceding came to mind. At first he knew not whether to pass it by and not appear to notice or whether to attempt to corral it and procure reward. Bravely he decided on the latter course, and began a chase. Up one side of the street they went, then down the other, when the animal whirled and charged his pursuer, a trick undoubtedly learned from his trainers. However, the man was too quick for him and soon had him in a pen at Eighth and Mountain View. The Dawsons who had purchased the pig at the circus soon came to claim their property.

Mrs. Ella Rigney Describes

Panama Jungle Wonders

Mrs. Ella Rigney of Third and Lincoln, who has lived in Carmel for the past twenty-six years, leaves next Thursday for her sixth trip to Panama, where she will visit until some time in May with friends and relatives, at Ancon, Canal Zone. Since Mrs. Rigney's friend has lived at Ancon for 26 years and has made it a point to show all the things of interest to her guest, Mrs. Rigney has had some remarkable experiences.

In talking with the editor she told of a marvelous trip into the jungle in the moonlight and the thrills which came from hearing the monkeys and wild birds which were disturbed by the noise of the car. The natives, Mrs. Rigney said, are a very friendly people of negro and Indian blood and live entirely by barter. On one of their trips, these natives came from all directions and entertained them with their weird music on their hand made instruments, lighting up the scene with the pine torches they carried.

The practical things from which the natives live are wild fruits, an especially sweet wild orange impressing Mrs. Rigney most, and the wild game, such as hogs, turkeys, deer and bears. In speaking of the climate, she said one could find all kinds of climate within a radius of 10 miles, the country being mountainous, the high altitudes being very cold and the low exceedingly hot.

Mrs. Rigney advises people passing through the canal to stop off in Panama for a few days and visit the interior. She will leave on the Santa Ana, one of the Grace line and will be on the water two weeks. On account of the cold weather when she leaves and the heat when she has been a day out of San Diego, she will take with her both winter and summer clothing. The ship will touch many Central American ports.

REVIEW OF BOOK AT MISSIONARY MEETING

Taking as her subject, "Lady Fourth Daughter," a new book on China, written by Mary Brewster Hollister, Mrs. Charles Draper of Pacific Grove appeared before the Missionary society of Carmel at the monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon of last week, and held the audience spell bound with her vivid descriptions of that country. About thirty ladies were present and thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon.

Mrs. Draper gave some interesting details of the trip she and her husband and children made to China in 1918. "On our way to Shanghai," Mrs. Draper said, "my oldest child, Margaret, developed measles and she and I were quarantined in a room, which was least desirable and where we got the full effect of the motion of the ship." When they reached Shanghai they thought to have a few days there to clean up and rest but in a few hours were notified that a boat was leaving that night to take them on their way to their post. Again little Margaret and her mother had to be placed in quarantine, the child having developed at this time scarlet fever. Another youngster was also taken ill when they landed and they were forced to wait at Foo Chow for some time before continuing on their way. Reaching their country they were taken in by the Hollisters and consequently Mrs. Draper is perhaps the best fitted by any one to give a review on the book as she and Mrs. Hollister have remained fast friends.

The book takes its name, it was brought out, from Lady Fourth Daughter of the Family of Ching, who about one thousand years ago reclaimed the salt marches by having a dam made to withhold the salt water and canals made to bring in fresh river water. Present "fourth daughters" are today reclaiming the land for Christianity.

A delightful number on the program was a solo, "Consider the Lillies," by Mrs. O. W. Bardarson. A nominating committee comprising Mrs. E. L. Taylor, Miss White, and Miss Pierce, was appointed to choose officers for the coming year.

Miss Mary Barnes, who led devotions, gave an interesting talk on, "Have I been so long with you and yet doest thou not know me," applying the quotation to present day life.

The January meeting was held at the Episcopalian church.

Robert Leidig was among the Carmel people who attended the meeting of the board of county supervisors in Salinas Tuesday in an effort to protect Carmel by a zoning ordinance against hot dog stands, etc.

Barney Segal drove over to Santa Cruz Friday and enjoyed golf at Paso Tiempo.

bushes, but all are parasites and regardless of their beauty, destroy acres and acres of trees, leaving the stumps standing which give the appearance of a forest burned over.

Other touches of color come from the red, coral and purple bougainvillea which grow in abundance, Mrs. Rigney said.

The practical things from which the natives live are wild fruits, an especially sweet wild orange impressing Mrs. Rigney most, and the wild game, such as hogs, turkeys, deer and bears. In speaking of the climate, she said one could find all kinds of climate within a radius of 10 miles, the country being mountainous, the high altitudes being very cold and the low exceedingly hot.

Mrs. Rigney advises people passing through the canal to stop off in Panama for a few days and visit the interior. She will leave on the Santa Ana, one of the Grace line and will be on the water two weeks. On account of the cold weather when she leaves and the heat when she has been a day out of San Diego, she will take with her both winter and summer clothing. The ship will touch many Central American ports.

SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
PACKED FOR LECTURE

A most interesting lecture was given Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of Sunset school when Bicknell Young of Chicago, member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church of Christ Scientists, addressed a large number of people. So interested were his listeners, the quiet was such that one could have heard a pin drop.

Mrs. John Tennis is first reader of the Carmel church and Herman Kern, second.

City Council Discusses Scrip Plans to Boost Business

The City council met Wednesday evening, with all members present and transacted the regular business of the month. A committee appointed at the mass meeting held in Pine Inn the previous Wednesday was in attendance and presented to the council the scrip plan for approval. The following resolution was adopted by the council unanimously:

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, that council does hereby approve, and does strongly urge upon the residents of said city, the whole-hearted support of the plan sponsored by the Carmel Businessmen's Association for the issuance, circulation and redemption of Carmel dollars to aid in the relief of the local unemployed and to foster home trade in said city.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of said council.

The plan was presented by Howell Byrnes, chairman, and the following fellow-members: Eugene Watson, W. L. Overstreet, Miss Mary Messer, C. L. Cockburn, Louis Levinson, E. W. Ewig and Willard Whitney.

The Carmel Dollar is an emergency measure, it was said, and its true value lies in the cooperation of all the citizens of Carmel. An issue of $1,000 will be made soon to be handled at the rate of about $75 to $100 a week for the next 10 to 12 weeks.

Mr. Watson said that he had been appearing before organizations and gatherings of citizens and found nothing but enthusiasm for the plan.

As the plan now stands, the banks will handle the supply of stamps for the Businessmen's organization, and all merchants are requested to keep a supply on hand to avoid confusion. The Carmel Dollar seems to be an answer to "What you gonna use for money?"

A communication was read from Fire Chief Leidig asking for more protection for certain parts of the city, especially naming the Sunset school district. A committee was appointed to meet with committees from other peninsula towns and take up the matter of hydrants and water supply.

A vote of thanks was given the Planning commission for their recommendation to the board of supervisors for the residential zoning of the district asked by Carmel people.

Planning Commission Meets and Recommends Zoning

That the strip of roadway between Monterey and Carmel River bridge be made into a restricted residential district was the subject of a petition presented to the Planning commission at the supervisors' chamber in the court house at Salinas Tuesday afternoon. Mayor Catlin, with an appropriate appeal presented the petition, signed by several hundred names of Carmel people.

In the speeches which followed, it was brought out that the beauty of Hatton Fields, which was sold as a restricted district, is now threatened with the erection of a Motel Inn and possibly other business ventures, due to the new highway down the coast. It was also pointed out that a road built at a cost of $12,000,000 and probably passing through the most beautiful scenery in the United States, should be kept free from unsightly projects as much as possible.

Judge J. A. Bardin presented the legal side of the question, showing that it would be possible for the county to take steps to zone this section if they wished to do so.

Many other interesting speeches were made, all for the zoning order. No one appeared against the proposition though it was said the messages and letters had been sent by those interested on the other side.

Carmel Martin of Monterey, Senator Ed Tickle of Highlands and Engineer Canover are on the Planning commission. Word was received Wednesday that they had recommended the zoning to the board of supervisors.
